

The Kadastr Nedvizhimosti magazine celebrated the 5th anniversary

The first jubilee of the Kadastr Nedvizhimosti (Real Property Cadastre) magazine was held in the Concert Hall of the Central Journalist House in Moscow, Russia. This professional information and analysis periodical is published being supported by Cadastral Engineers NP. Attendants were representatives from various government bodies and organisations, editors-in-chief of sector magazines, members of the Partnership from regions and colleagues from Estonia. They came to congratulate readers, authors and the editorial body of the magazine.

The first issue of Kadastr Nedvizhimosti saw the light in November 2005. In five years the magazine has become a unique quarterly 120-page information source for professionals in land administration of the country. The magazine has acquired its individual, knowable publishing brand and become a methodological desk manual for cadastral engineers, land administrators, surveyors, students and postgraduates of sectoral institutes.

The magazine takes part in the training of cadastral engineers for the passing of the qualifying examination and renders information support to all projects organised by Cadastral Engineers NP.

For merits of the magazine in the development of cadastral engineers' institute in Russia and the self-regulation of activities in cadastre, members of the editorial staff and authors actively wrote for the magazine for the five years were awarded Partnership Diplomas of Honour. Diplomas were presented by Mr. Anatoly Malyar, Cadastral Engineers NP President and Honorary Editor of the magazine. Also, all attendants were presented with the anniversary issue of the magazine, the Bibliographic Index of Kadastr Nedvizhimosti Magazine Articles 2005–2010 and a special CD issue containing the anthology of magazine electronic versions. Guests could see Partnership publications at the exhibition.

Editor-in-Chief Mrs. Olga Krasotina noted in her speech that she as a magazine manager was pleased with high estimates of the magazine by professionals working in the very specific and sophisticated cadastral sphere. "But this is the service firstly of our authors, partners and readers who help us always to feel pulses of activities and events occurring in the field of cadastre," she underlined. "Thank you all so much for congratulations and the high estimate of our work. I hope our friendship will strengthen and ranks of Kadastr Nedvizhimosti subscribers will widen".

The official part of the jubilee event on the 5th anniversary of the first issue of the Kadastr Nedvizhimosti magazine was concluded with the magazine anthem united both guests and hosts of the feast.
