

The Council of European Geodetic Surveyors
Comité de Liaison des Géomètres Européens

The President

Brussels, date of the Post

Dear President,

Allow me to present the “Comité de Liaison des Geometres Europeens” in a few words. Its acronym, CLGE, is based on the French appellation. However, the official English name is “European Council of Geodetic Surveyors”. The Council has existed since 1972.

CLGE represents the geodetic surveyors belonging to 23 European countries, i.e. about 25000 professionals.

All over Europe, our members play an important role in risk control, with both their technical and legal know-how. Land survey, construction survey, dimension control, mapping, photogrammetry, geomatics, hydrography, and the measurement and administration of land property are important aspects of the profession. All these activities are essential for land management, for guaranteeing the fundamental right of the European citizens to land property and to avoid high costs of errors during building and maintenance activities. Moreover, in several countries, the surveyors are entrusted with a mission of official authority. You’ll find more information about the CLGE on our website www.clge.eu.

As you can appreciate, our organisation works in perfect harmony with the FIG (International Association of geodetic surveyors), addressing typical European problems of our profession. The most urgent problem is the European wide lack of new surveyors in our profession.

Lately we decided to broaden our presence in Brussels by creating a permanent CLGE office in the vicinity of the European headquarters. We also put the accent on the enlargement of our organisation by helping newcomers to join us.

Both decisions are aimed to improve the professional effectiveness of the European geodetic surveyor, to lobby for the acknowledgement of the need for well educated surveyors in accordance to European wide minimum standards and to attract new students for our magnificent profession; hence they should enlarge and assist your natural clientele.

As our financial possibilities to back these new initiatives are limited in time, we ask renowned companies as yours to help us to reach our long term goals by securing a proper funding. Attached you'll find the different levels of sponsoring we created for this purpose.

We would be very grateful if you could help us to reach our ambitious goals, by becoming a partner of our organisation.

If you need further information, please do not hesitate to contact Mrs Ann Vandaele, our executive director in Brussels. I remain, of course, at your disposal for any additional information, and wish you full success in your own endeavours,

Sponsoring levels 2007 – 2009

For the time period from 2007 to 2009 the CLGE will distinguish three levels of sponsoring:

- CLGE Premium sponsor;
- CLGE First sponsor;
- CLGE Sponsor.

Below you'll find a description of the three levels and the corresponding fees.

If you confirm for a three or two years offer before the 1st December 2006, a discount of respectively 15 or 10 % will be applied, unless you ask for the contrary.

In any case, payments should be effective before the 1st March of each sponsoring year.

Common CLGE sponsoring rules

All the CLGE sponsors are entitled to receive the publications disseminated by the European Council of Geodetic Surveyors.

A CLGE sponsor is kept up-to-date with the complete range of present and planned activities undertaken by the CLGE.

If a CLGE sponsor takes part in a special CLGE event, organised at the European level in Brussels, the normal participation fee is reduced with a percentage defined by its sponsoring level, the higher the level the higher the discount. A CLGE sponsor may of course disregard this advantage.

A CLGE sponsor may use the CLGE logo in combination with its sponsoring level i.e. respectively:

 CLGE Premium Sponsor,  CLGE First Sponsor and  CLGE Sponsor

In written CLGE documents the logo's of the sponsors will appear. They will be ordered regarding to their sponsoring level. Within the same level, the sequence will be alphabetic.

Thus, sponsoring links a company directly to the European community of surveyors of all disciplines, as CLGE is already represented in more than 23 countries in Europe, with 25000 members.

The annual fee for the CLGE Premium level is €4000,-.

The discount level applied for the partaking in European CLGE events is 20 per cent, with a maximum of €400,-.

This is the medium level of sponsoring, corresponding to a banner on the CLGE website, with at least an intermittent appearance on the home page.
