In a lively debate Mr Siewic was asked if he thought that the surveying profession and in particular the cadastral surveying profession was understood by enough people in Brussels, he answered very briefly. The first meeting took place in Brussels on the 21st January 2009, bringing together delegates from Belgium and France. Due to the geographical and cultural proximity, Luxembourg will join the forum soon. Special working parties were created in the different fields of interest and will work during the first semester of 2009. A second plenary session is planned on the 16th June 2009 in Paris. As the eventual goal is to make some harmonized proposals that could interest the rest of Europe, CLGE will of course be kept informed about the progress of the project.
