

Version 2016 (to be discussed and adopted in Riga)

(attached to statutes adopted by the General Assembly in September 2016, based on the Varna statutes)

INTERNAL RULES

Purpose

The Internal Rules expand upon, but remain subordinate to the Statutes of CLGE as adopted by the Varna (BG) GA in September 2010 and subsequently updated at the Reykjavik (IS) GA in September 2014. The purpose of the Internal Rules is to provide practical explanation and interpreted examples of the regulations to the Statutes where this is considered necessary and helpful. In the case of doubt the Statutes and Belgian Law take precedence over the Internal Rules at all times.

1 Office and representation

CLGE maintains a permanent office in the House of the European Surveyor and GeoInformation, whose address is:

Rue du Nord 76, 1000, Brussels,

This house belongs to UGEB-ULEB, the Brussels association of Surveyors, member of the Belgian Union of Surveyors \(UBGE\).

CLGE shall ensure that the address of its office remains at all times published in the public domain and readily accessible to all interested parties.

CLGE maintains a public facing website to disseminate information to a wider audience. Members are obliged to provide a link from their national association website(s) to the CLGE website and vice versa.

The President shall represent and advance the interests of CLGE at all times and, as opportunity presents, at constituent members' meetings and functions and to other bodies and functions having compatible purpose and objectives or similar interests to those of CLGE.

In the absence or indisposition of the President or at his/her discretion, the Executive Board can appoint one of the Vice-Presidents to undertake the duties of the President as may be necessary. ~~If the President is not able to decide about delegation, the decision is assigned to the Executive Board.~~

2 The Executive Board

Ideally the members of the Executive Board should provide a representation from the different geographical regions of Europe.

The Secretary General shall represent a different state to that of the President.

The Executive Board decides upon measures to implement the aims and objectives of CLGE as defined in the Statutes. Normally these decisions are made at meetings of the Executive Board or at a General Assembly. Where urgent matters arise between meetings, essential decisions may be concluded by electronic means and this process will be organised by the Secretary General. The result of an electronic consultation must be reported at the next Executive Board meeting and noted in the minutes.

The Secretary General shall co-ordinate all proceedings of CLGE, its agents and representatives to ensure that they comply with the Statutes, Internal Rules and objectives of CLGE. The Secretary General has a duty at all times to advise the members of CLGE of any potential or actual non-compliance, whereupon the Executive Board or the General Assembly shall consider the matter arising at the earliest opportunity.

The Treasurer manages the financial assets owned by CLGE and those owned by the Interest Groups, such as IG-PARLS. The Treasurer is authorised to make all payments relating to the expenses anticipated in the budget and any other expenses occurring from decisions taken by the General Assembly, the Executive Board or the Interest Groups.

The Treasurer is responsible for oversight of the accounts of CLGE and the accounts of any Interest Group. He / She will :

- prepare a proposed budget for presentation to the General Assembly for approval.
- arrange to have accounts for the previous year and auditors reports for presentation to the General Assembly for approval.

3 Membership¹

All, Principal Members, Honorary Members and Observing Members as well as Corporate Members are obliged to comply with the Statutes and the Internal Rules of CLGE.

The associations that were Principal Members of CLGE when adopting the Statutes in 2003 maintain their membership in CLGE. The aim is that they will, in the future if not already completed, represent the majority of geodetic surveyors by establishing a National Liaison Group of Geodetic Surveying Professionals in their state.

If there is uncertainty about the representation of the majority of geodetic surveyors in a given (existing or prospective) state and no agreement can be found, the relevant national associations of that state as known to the Executive Board will be contacted by the Secretary General to seek written clarification. The involved associations will be asked to establish a National Liaison Group.

In countries where no association exists or where the existing association\(s\) do not fulfil the above mentioned requirements, National Mapping, Cadastral and Land Registration Agencies can become Principal CLGE members and remain in this position until the situation changes. For countries without association and without Agency, it is possible to become titular member, and to be represented by another country.

Observing Member status is normally granted during the process of joining CLGE, to facilitate the application procedure and allow the prospective member to become integrated into CLGE.

¹ [regulations about the Corporate Membership inserted by the CLGE GA held in Tallinn, 16 - 17 September 2011]

The General Assembly may bestow Observing Member status for a period normally no longer than two years on any national association in Europe preparing to join CLGE. It is expected that at the end of the two year period the observing member will have either completed, or be close to having completed, the application process.

Whenever there are more than one national association and they do not represent the majority of the geodetic surveyors in that country, CLGE urges observers to establish a National Liaison Group of Geodetic Surveying Professionals in their country prior to or during the membership application process.

In case of non-payment of fees or reduced fees as fixed following article 9 of the statutes, and a will of the non-paying principal member to remain member of CLGE, measures proposed by the Executive Board could be that:

- no CLGE mandates are available for delegates from those countries;
- no events are organized in those countries;
- no Per Diem tasks are given to delegates from those countries;
- those countries lose their principal membership and become observing members with no voting power.

Normally, the re-establishment of the principal membership requires the reimbursement of the outstanding fees.

Observing Members are encouraged to attend General Assemblies and CLGE events. Participation will be at their own expense as is the case for Principal Members. However Observing Member status attracts no voting rights.

The General Assembly may bestow Honorary Membership on individuals. Proposals for nomination can be made to the Executive Board by Principal Members. Proposals should reach the Secretary General no later than 60 calendar days before the subsequent General Assembly. Honorary Membership does not attract funding from CLGE to attend any events. Honorary Members have no voting rights.

CLGE reserves the right to invite kindred associations or institutions to its events. Normally, such third parties are responsible for their own costs.

Membership Application

Applications to join CLGE must contain the following information:

- Evidence that the organisation or national liaison group applying represents the majority of geodetic surveying professionals in that State.

- Detailed evidence, in the same format as ~~the Allan Report~~ the Dynamic Professional Knowledge Base, of the:
 1. academic qualifications necessary to practice geodetic surveying in that State.
 2. professional qualifications necessary to practice geodetic surveying in that State
 3. continuing professional development requirements to continue to practice geodetic surveying in that State
 4. the ethical standards to which a geodetic surveyor is required to adhere in that that state

An application form is available from the Secretary General.

If the application is accepted by the General Assembly, the following actions will ensue:

- the representative of the new member will formally sign a copy of CLGE Statutes, ~~and~~ the Internal Rules and the Code of Conduct to confirm acceptance of the terms and conditions imposed by CLGE's Statutes and Internal Rules.
- the new member will commit to complete and maintain the information for their state in the Dynamic Professional Knowledge Base.

CLGE reserves the right to reject any application for membership, but must publicly stipulate and record the grounds upon which it makes such a decision.

Re-Instatement

In the event that a member resigns or is excluded from CLGE an application for re-instatement will not be considered until one year has elapsed from the date of cessation of membership.

4 Elections

Nominations for candidates to the Executive Board should normally be made to the Secretary General not later than 60 days prior to the General Assembly at which the election will take place so as to be included into the agenda of the General Assembly. However if there are not enough candidates to fill all positions, nominations can also be made at the nomination process at the General Assembly.

It is the responsibility of the proposing members to ascertain if their nominees are willing to stand for election.

The Auditors shall not be concurrent members of the Executive Board.

The Elections Procedure is detailed in Annex 1².

² [Annex 1 about the Elections Procedure adopted during the CLGE GA held in Budapest 22 – 23 March 2013]

5 Financial matters

5.1 Resources³

Annual membership fees are the primary source of revenue for CLGE and will be set at a level, as ratified by the General Assembly, to meet its budgeted expenditure. Membership fees charged to Principal Members are calculated using the following formula:

- a fixed administrative charge (lump sum) plus
- a proportional charge based on the GDP (Gross Domestic Product) of their country.

Annual membership fee for Principal Members = $L + C * G^F$

Where L = CLGE lump sum fee
C = CLGE fee per Billion GDP
G = Gross domestic product⁴
F = Factor for reduction (<1).

The parameters are voted by the General Assembly⁵.

Corporate Membership fees and Sponsoring fees shall be fixed by the General Assembly, based upon the proposal by the Executive Board. The Executive Board can vary these fees for strategic or economic reasons.

~~Following the admission, resignation or exclusion of any member state that scale of charges fees may be revised at the next following General Assembly, or be reviewed, subject to six months notice, at the request of any member state.~~

Each member shall be invoiced by the Treasurer before April 1 of each year for the fees due in that financial year, and shall pay in full before July 1 of that year as directed.

Secondary income may be generated by contributions from any organisation or individual within Europe provided that it is compatible with the aims and objectives of CLGE and without prejudice to the Statutes and Internal Rules. Normally such funding is used to fund particular projects or to pay for specific tasks.

5.2 Ordinary Budgets
